t is difficult to find a student who has not been told at least once that high school s the best time of his ife, that he should enoy it while he can, that the good times will soon be over and real life will begin. We the members of the Challenges staff selected The Best of Times as our theme because our challenge to the Class of 1993 is this: make ALL the years of your lives the best of times starting now.

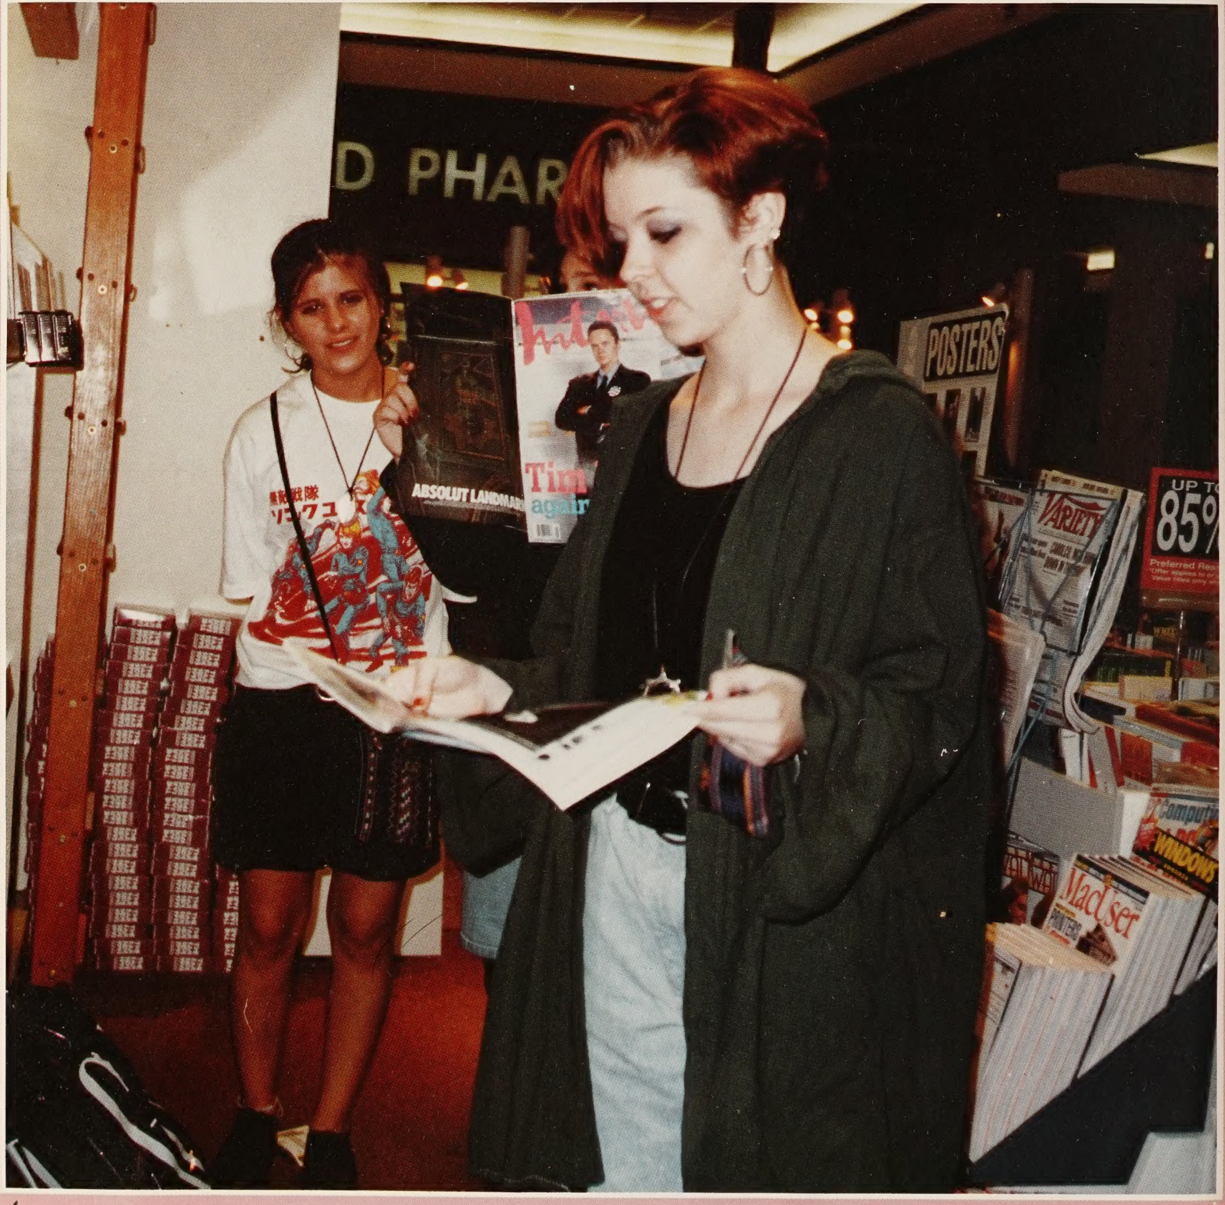
Student Life Cycles



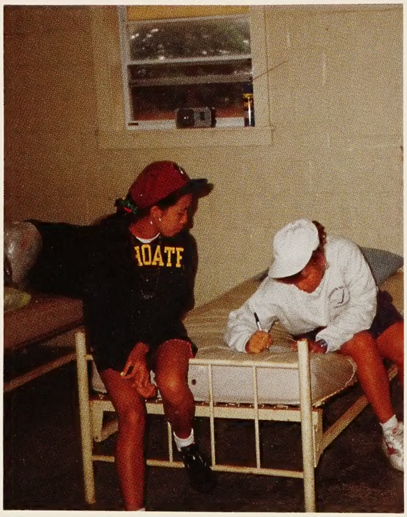
Instructor
Weldon Higgs, Jr. Pro

One of our most important life cycles involves the progression of school life. It seems like just yesterday that grade school began and already here we are in high school. Even the cycle of the year goes quickly. One day we're at the mall enjoying our summer vacation, like Kim Smith and Claudia Osegueda. The next we are working, like Sara Richardelli. Once school begins, other activities take precedence. But even the school day is interupted by activities such as picture taking, where David Bonney and Tim Reid take a break. Others, such as Becky Witten, use this time as an opportunity to show their school spirit.

the best of 93

TIME FOR...

This summer was filled with time for work and time for play as members of the cheerleading squad have a shaving cream fight at cheerleading camp, and Charlene Luna and a counselor take a rest at field hockey camp to exchange addresses. Russ McKinney stands in awe at the destruction created by Hurricane Andrew while on disaster relief in Miami. Bryan Banner and Brody McCray wait for cross-country conditioning to start.



SUMMER!

Karen McCullough does the Urkel, and Colleen Gill stares in wonder as Shannon Sullivan performs a balancing act. The Latin students pause for a picture in Florence as Aaron Adams and Kurt Bonney take time out to do a little fishing.

BASKETBALL

Practice, Practice, Practice . . . Who Has The Time?

Fall sports athletes and other extracurricular activity members spend the month of August preparing for the coming season. This month is used to make cuts and organize the new groups to make successful teams.

The band practices many long days during the summer to become the award winning band of the 1992 school year. Julie Smith is caught in the motion of perfecting her shooting skills. Although air dribbling is not a skill used in an actual field hockey game, Danielle Oleson is helping her eye-to-stick coordination. The Chargers' football team works on their strategy under Coach Miller's guidance. Members of cross-country team use the Loriella Park course to get into shape.

Cheerleader

The JV Cheerleaders work on a cheer which they will perform in an upcoming game, while Marisol Laserna and other Varsity Cheerleaders practice a stunt. The colorguard works on getting their routine synchronized at their summer practice. Chris Cramer and Patrick Walsh finish another hard practice working on their kicking skills. At the Sheraton Golf course, Dickie Weart watches his drive on the first hole.

There's A Time To Work . . .

Remember the old statement you heard as a child, there's a time to work and a time to play. Most of the time you laughed and went back to playing with your friends. When you became a teenager, things got turned around. You found yourself needing money for dates, money to put gas in your car, money for a car, money for nice clothes. So off to work you went, suddenly realizing you needed to work in order to do many things.

Most students hold jobs during the summer months. The mall provides many jobs for students. Dwight Peck gladly helps out customers at a department store. Christina Brown is busy talking on the telephone while working at the mall. Andrew Willis and Tommy Campbell work at two stores in the mall that are sure to attract young adults, a music and movie store.

. . . And A Time To Play

Other places that many students work are drug stores, fast food chains and ice cream shops. Kiersten Murray smiles as she helps a customer at a fast food restaurant while Jennifer Milkie checks out a customer at a drug store. Ryan Geis prepares hot fudge at an ice cream shop, while Howard Kohl works at Carl's. Perhaps the most unusual job is held by Chris Higgs. He works at a local golf course, cleaning and driving golf-carts. Is that considered work, or play?

It's Charger Time!

The Chargers gear up for another great year. At our first pep rally, we boast about our fall sports achievements. Led by mascot Christy Heflin, the Charger Jay-Vee and Varsity Cheerleaders, accompanied by the Lightning Regiment Marching Band, boost everyone's spirits. And which class won the spirit contest? Surprise, surprise! The SENIORS!

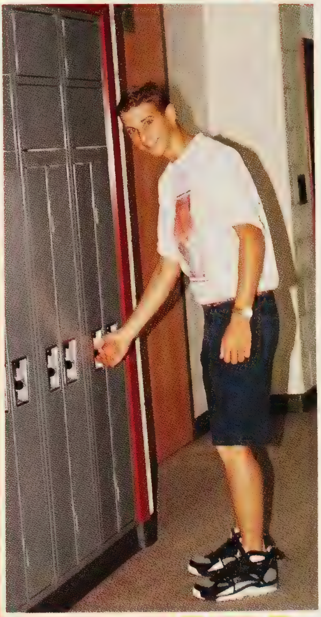
ANCELLOR HIGH SCHOOL

Back Again



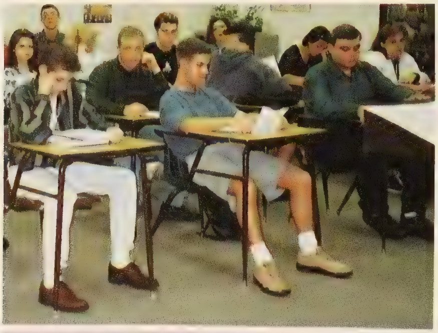
Back To
hool Boogie

The last day of school was a joyous time. Then, September 8, 1992, a special day for students, school begins again. For the Class of 1993, the date signifies their most historic year here at Chancellor High. For others, it is just the regular routine, and for incoming Freshmen, it begins the best time of their lives.

School means smiles with friends, rehearsing the handbook year after year, and crowds. Mrs. Tomlin helps Eric Thomas, and students exit the bus to begin a new year. In homeroom, Scott Elder, Kenneth Distasio, and Kyle Drebes await their day while Eric Brendle learns his new combonation.

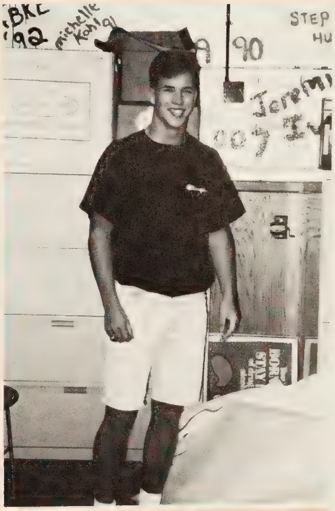
A Time To Share

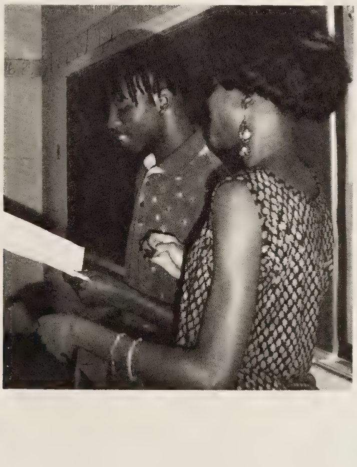
The student life at Chancellor varies from student to student. Ally Nordstrom and Joy Lucas with friends Alice and Sheena gather in front of the school in the morning to talk. Aaron Adams and Aric Rice show their enthusiasm at an assembly. Chris Higgs, Bryan Banner, and Jennifer Shoemaker help with class pictures. Ryan Malocha and Amy Ashburn paint their faces in support of the field hockey team. Mrs. Ford helps Tracy Cillo find and open her locker.

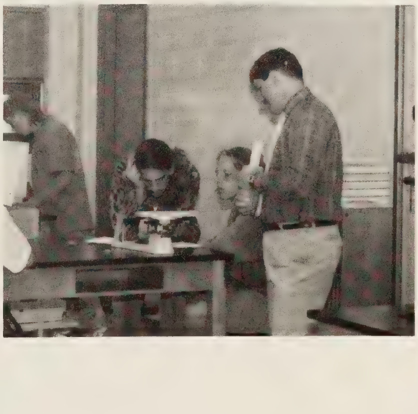


ESPRIT
CHANCELLOR HOCKEY

A Time To Care







Students at Chancellor participate in many different types of activities. Josh Gebhart purchases his class ring while Kristy Myers, Heather Anderson, Noel Cramer, and Jason Crochowski talk during lunch. Mrs. Loughan helps Jeff Hill sign guests up for a school dance. Nicole Slusarz and Christina Fix study in the library. Curtis White, SCA president, works in the SCA office. Meanwhile Senior Class President, Marq Few, gives his Big Brother/Big Sister speech to a freshman homeroom with help from Christina Brown. Mr. McLeod helps students with their classwork.

The First Week Of School

This week was a busy one for all. The students topped it off on Saturday night with a Back to School Boogie, sponsored by the SCA.

Students gather in a group to socialize and dance. Yolanda Walden and Jaquenett McMillian take a break to enjoy some refreshments. Mrs. Holmes likes to get down at the dance too. Three girls try to decide what they want to do.

The Second Week Of School

Now that students are getting adjusted to their schedules, they take a trip to the stadium during seventh period to have their class pictures taken.

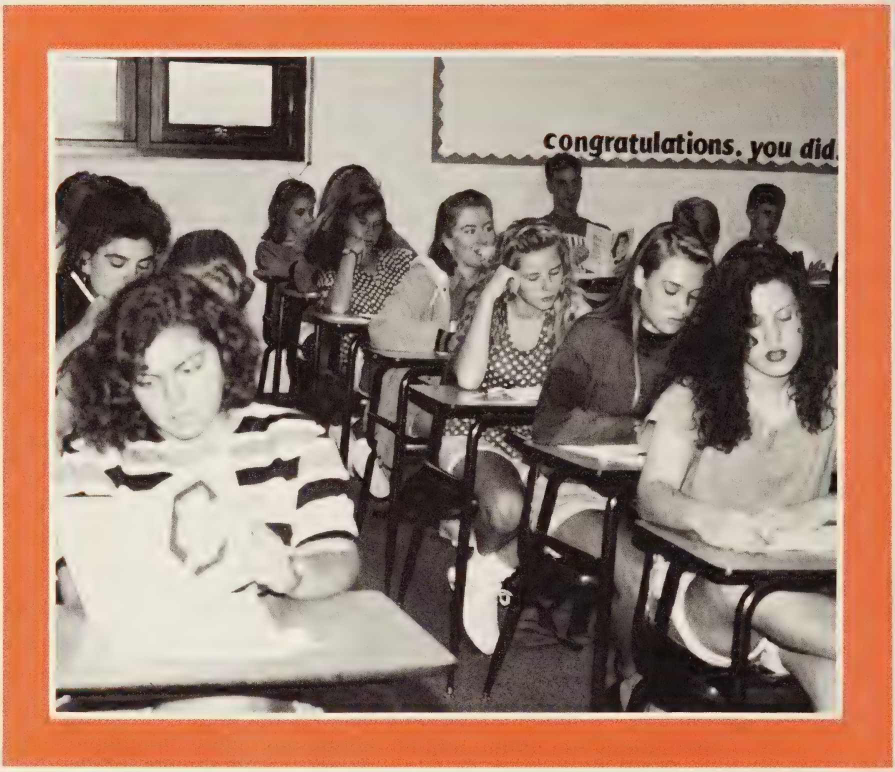
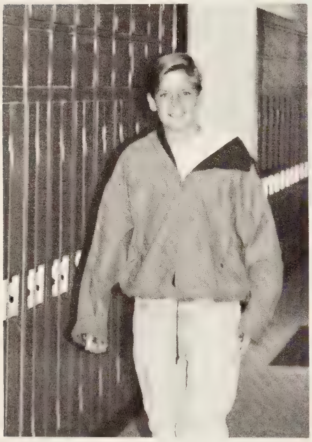
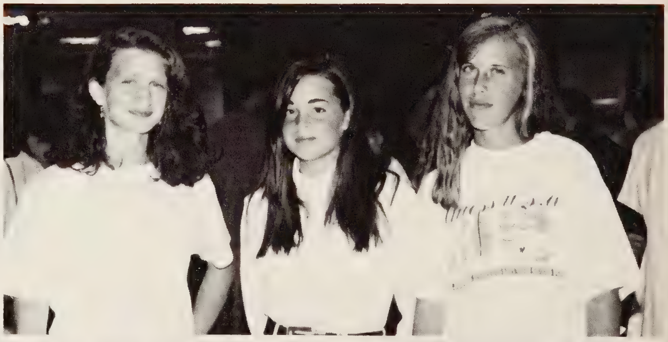
The Times . . .

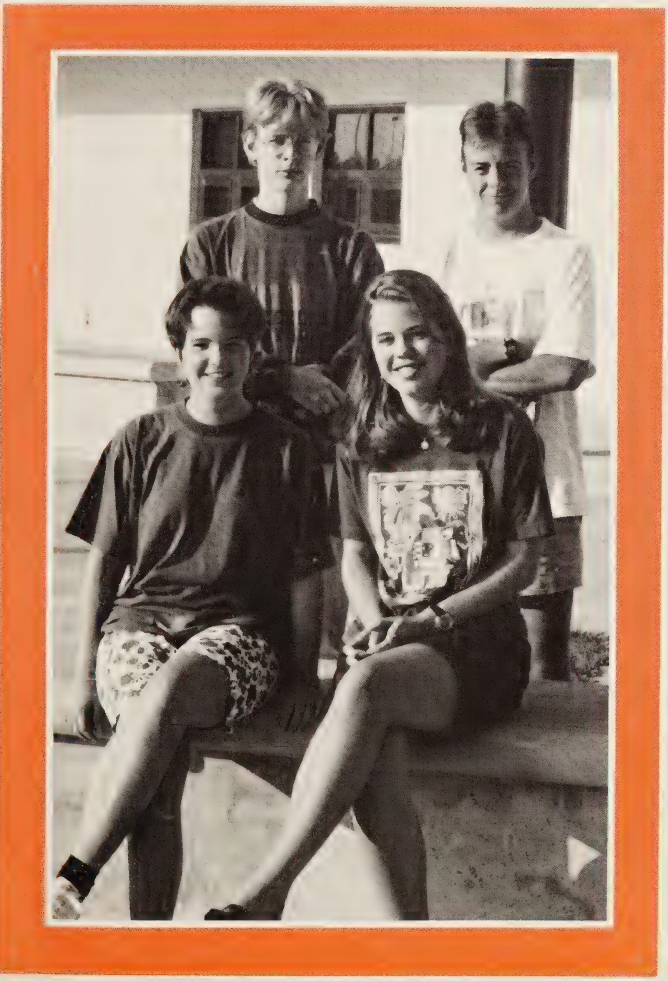
For students and adults, beginning in a new school is a big change. But to Chancellor Chargers it seems to be no problem. Freshmen go over the handbook at homeroom. Ben Keddie strides down the hall while smiling at the camera. Our new school nurse takes time off her job to pose for a picture. Mary Beth Beatty, Sara Hart and Sherri Trunzo stand in the lobby after lunchtime. Freshmen and their parents gather together at orientation.





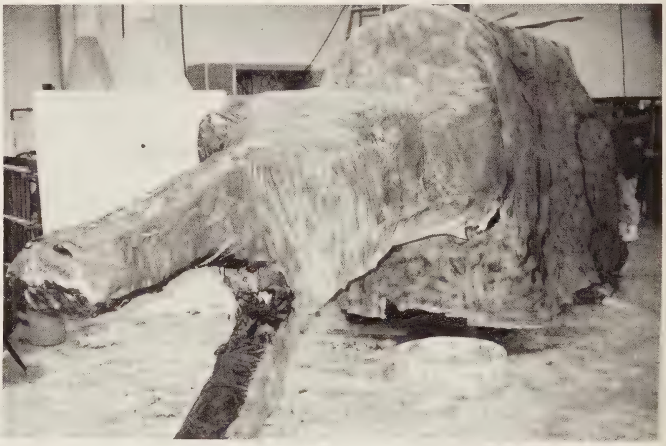


. . . Are Changing



It takes time for new Chargers to adjust in a new environment. But it won't be long before they'll get the hang of it. Dawn Piedel, a transfer student from Indiana, flashes a grin at the camera. Mrs. Hale lectures to her freshmen class on important information. Ralf Schlottau, Jonas Muller, Nina Grandstrom, Christina Fix, our foreign exchange students, pose in front of their new school. The new security guard is always welcomed at Chancellor's halls.

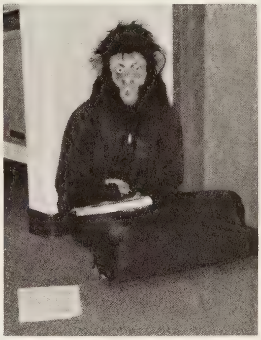
Spirits Rise At Homecoming '92



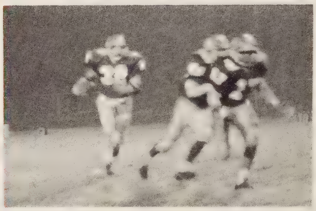
Chancellor proved successful at Homecoming by defeating both the weather and Culpeper. The cheerleaders raised school spirit at the bonfire on the Thursday preceding the game and lead the Chargers to victory. Homecoming week was filled with spirited activities such as pajama day. The Spanish club enjoyed halftime activities on their float. The hard work and effort of the Vocational students was rewarded with their prize winning float. The Homecoming Court assembled on the field at halftime of the game, in which we defeated Culpeper 21-0.

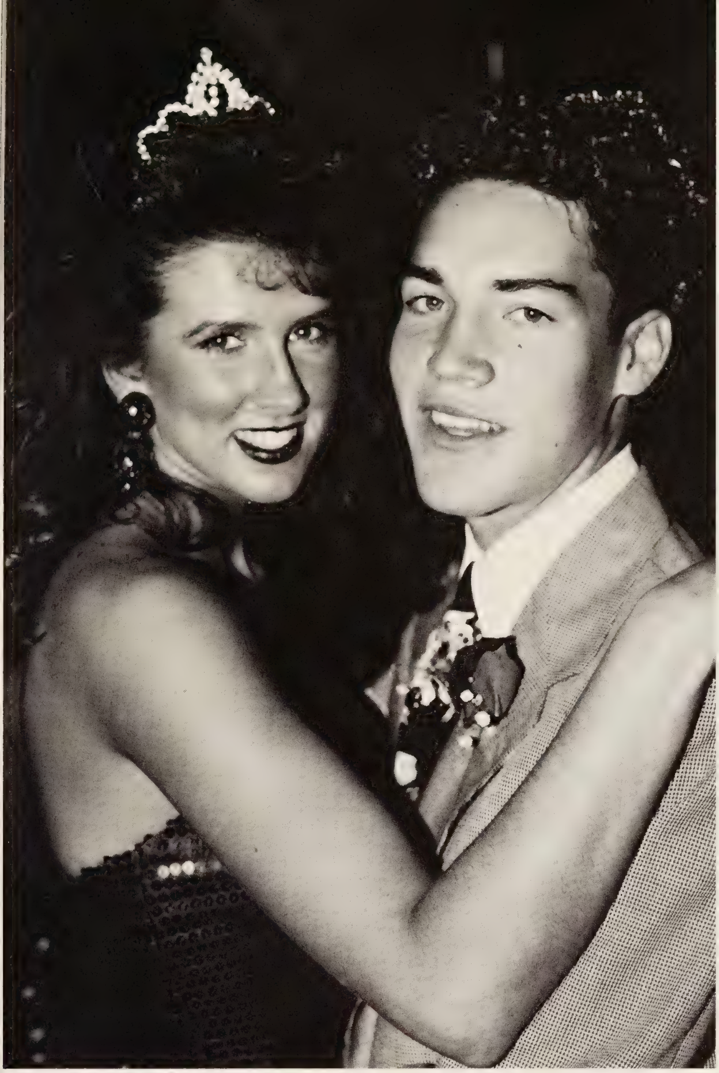
Homecoming Events

The Charger spirit week was capped off with a brilliant display of spirit at the Bonfire. Seniors Joshua Semerjian, Jeff Soden, Mark Cary and Jeff Sotzing, show a diversity of hats on hat day. The cheerleaders lead the Chargers in cheer. Richie Blasko dresses up as George from the Planet of the Apes. Chargers enjoy the flaming bonfire before the big game. To raise spirits, the Lightning Regiment and our cheerleaders arouse the school with a song.



WHO ARE THESE MASKED PEOPLE?





Mardi Gras!

The theme for this year's Homecoming was the Masquerade Ball. Since it happened to fall on Halloween, this was particularly appropriate. The SCA ordered a variety of decorative masks for students to wear during the semi-formal dance. A festive Mardi Gras spirit was enhanced by brightly colored foil, balloons, and masks of all sizes used as decorations. Chargers enjoyed the excitement and thrill of Homecoming on Halloween night.

The Homecoming attendants were chosen by their peers. Representing the freshmen class were Nicole Davis, Rhett Carlin, Chiquatia Lassiter, and Waymon Lewis. Heather Huffman, Matt Guido, Natalie Simpson, and Paul Lewis were sophomore class attendants. Junior attendants were Ryan Malocha, Ryan Geis, Misty Thomas, and Brian Rau. Ten seniors were selected to represent their class. These included Heather Anderson, Marq Few, Amy Cherry, Brandin Carlin, Amy Irwin, Howard Kohl, Wendy Reid, Ryan Nissim-Sabat, Jody Tanner, and Curtis White. Crowned during a very rainy and cold halftime at the football game, the 1992 Chancellor King and Queen were Ryan Nissim-Sabat and Heather Anderson.

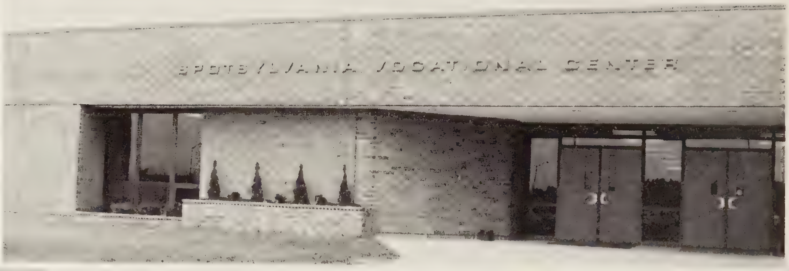
Despite the rainy weather, the float contest and football game were still held. The vocational float won for Overall Best Float, and the Senior float won for Best Class Float. The football game was played against Culpeper, and of course Chancellor won 21-0. Eddie Shelton wears a mask of a successful football player, demonstrating the winning ability of the Chargers as he runs for a touchdown.

A Step Toward Success

Vocational students lead an active school day. After arriving at school, they must pile on a bus and be transported to the Spotsylvania Vocational Center. The afternoon vocational students have morning classes and then go to the center.

Vocational students are already preparing for their futures by taking a variety of classes to help them in a certain field.

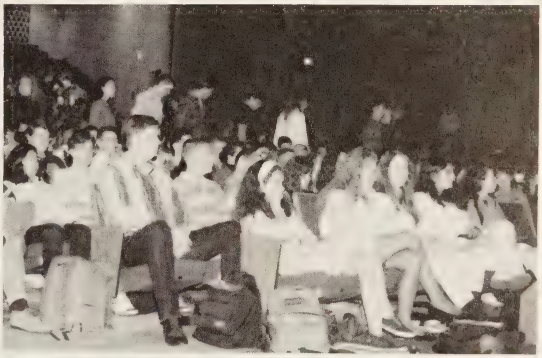
Joe Worring and Eric Grigsby are taking an electricity course which involves many labs on wiring. Richard Compher prepares himself for the future by taking a masonry class. Heather Miller and Stephanie Pittman get a lesson from the staff of "Hair Mosaics," while Tara Morris makes paper mache for a float.



Academic Excellence

On November 11, 1992, Chancellor High School held an Academic Letter Assembly rewarding those students who maintained a 3.5 GPA or better during the 91-92 school year. The event was sponsored by the National Honor Society.

Michelle Montgomery, a student at the Naval Academy in Annapolis and a former Chancellor graduate, gave a motivational speech on the rewards of trying and giving your best in all you do. President of the National Honor Society, Brent Ishizaki, gave congratulatory remarks and words of encouragement after the presentation of letters and bars. Kelly Toombs and Danielle Burke receive their letters while other students watch and listen attentively. Principal John Winston closed the ceremony with some congratulatory remarks.



The Chargers Are On Time

The fashions worn by Chancellor students vary greatly from person to person, and they are influenced by many different things. Joe Beamer sports his football jersey. School Spirit makes its mark on fashion also. A few of the members of the girls JV basketball team display their bandanas. Angie Caron sports the cute baby-doll dress. Sarah Lyon expresses her funky side in these wood shoes.

The Chargers show off their casual, laid back style this year. Dickie Weart and Kyle Gebhart relax in their baggy jeans and stylish shirts (far left).

It's Time For Christmas

As Christmas time approaches, there are many things to be done. Russ McKinney decorates the tree in the library, and Misty Thomas, Becky Mitchell, and Shawna Himelright decorate the office's tree. Mrs. Portner adds an ornament to the guidance department's tree.

The Drama III class consisting of Desiree Albert, Amy Cherry, Robert Cooney, Stephanie Doucette, Alicia Fink, Sheri Hayden, Kim Herlong, Ryan Nissim-Sabat, Nicole Pearce, Jenny Toney, and Chad Wakefield perform a play which was shown to the area elementary schools. The students designed and built the set from scratch and did all of their own artwork.

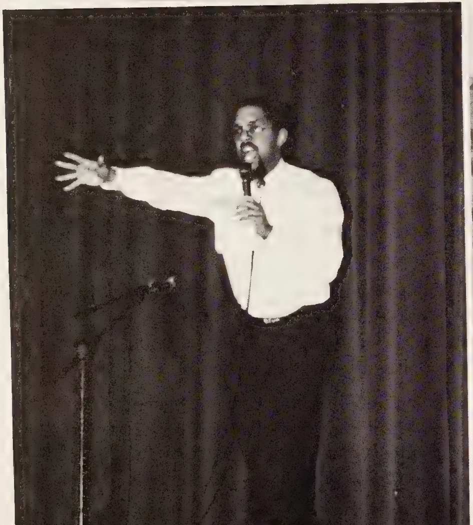
Academics

September January May



Mr. Winston

Mr. John Winston's past leadership experiences have proven him well, and we are confident in our principal. Mr. Winston received his B.A. from Randolph-Macon College and he received his Masters at the University of Virginia.

He taught math for four years at Spotsylvania and was a visiting teacher for one. He was principal at Chancellor Elementary for one year, Spotswood Elementary for five years, and Battlefield Middle for nine years, and has now been principal at Chancellor for all five years of the school's existance. This makes him a very recognized and established leader. He helps to make Chancellor the best school in the area with his great leadership ability.

Mr. Marra

Mr. Marra, our Vice Principal, has been here at Chancellor High School for the five years that we have been open. He is an effective principal that serves us well.

His thorough experience has proven to be helpful. For two years, Mr. Marra was principal of East Hardy High in West Virginia. Then he worked as Director of Education at the Davis Center also in West Virginia, for two more years. He then worked as Vice Principal at Sporsylvania High, and is now at Chancellor.

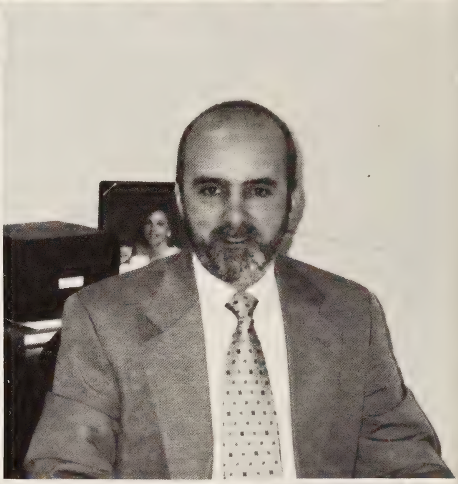
We are glad to have him as a principal, and we hope he stays with us for years to come.

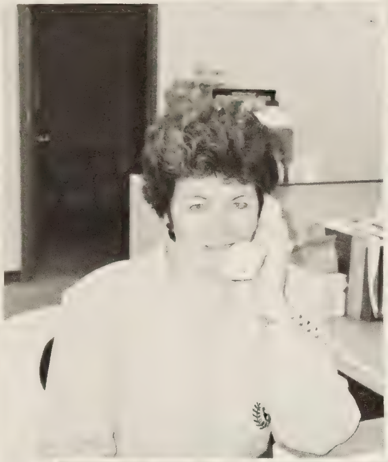
Mr. Houck

Here at Chancellor, we are very proud of our new Vice Principal. Mr. Houck, also a State Commonwealth Senator, has been an educator for nineteen years. He taught General Science at John J. Wright Middle School. He was also a Guidance Counselor and Vice Principal there. Next, Mr. Houck served as Vice Principal at Courtland High School.

Now working at Chancellor, Mr. Houck has many goals for the 1992-1993 school year. He hopes to devote more time to instructional supervision, participate in more classroom activities, and be more organized.

When asked if his political career affects his decisions as vice principal, Mr. Houck responded, "Yes. Politically, one tries to find solutions to complex and often times competing interests. The same holds true for school administration. In order for a school to function efficiently, the students, teachers, custodians, and all other workers must be treated fairly and feel they are an essential part of the operation.





Office Staff

Mrs. Calavetinos

As the main office's primary secretary, Mrs. Calavetinos has a bundle of work year around.

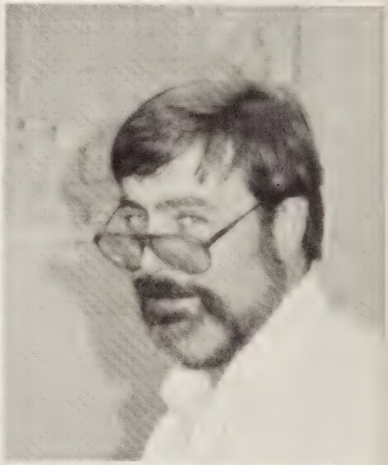
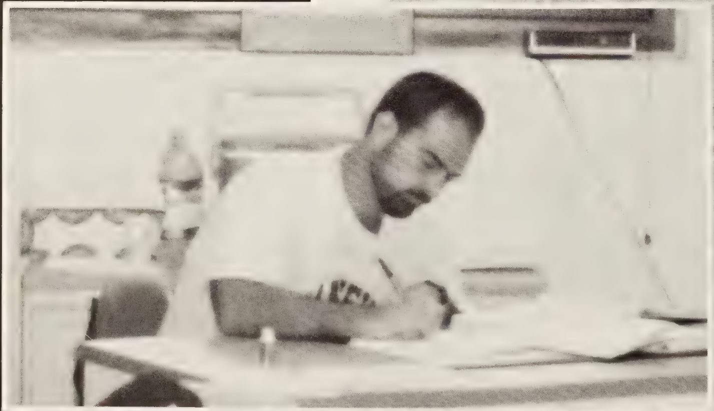
Time Out

For the 1992-93 school year, Chancellor had 112-and-counting personnel. With thirteen major departments plus the office staff, our school has a vast number of educational opportunities in many areas.

Mrs. Carron and Mrs. Lysher enjoy a break from their busy schedule. Many teachers, like the ones in the next picture, use lunch as an escape from their students. The right look from anybody can tell us what we need to know, as Mr. Boyd demonstrates. Mr. Demarco uses quiet time wisely by completing those "teacher things."





From Teaching

Senora Howson doesn't have to know Spanish to know how to smile. Mrs. Mullins offers more than just English Literature when she offers a student a treat. Mr. Oliver takes a break to re-organize his desk top. Mr. Street and Mrs. Cisneros journey down the Chancellor halls.

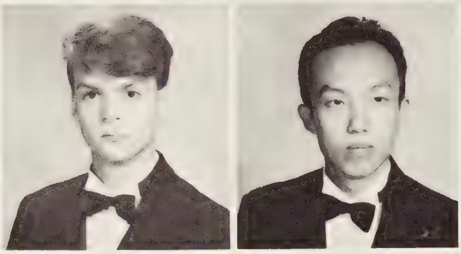
Michael D. Amerine
Yong S. An Likes most beautiful things.



Finally the class of 1993 is facing their Senior year. They must do many things to prepare for their last year of high school and their graduation. Seniors must order caps, gowns, tassels, and announcements for friends and family. They must also fill out numerous applications for colleges and that means many essays and headaches. Seniors must also keep their grades up because colleges get final grades.

Besides the stress of grades and colleges, Seniors take time out to have fun. Many Seniors find relaxation at football games, weekend trips or even prom and homecoming.

School is a time to meet and be with friends. Many Seniors realize that after this year it will be time to move on. Although many students will keep in touch with their high school friends, college friends await them. Soon high school will be just a happy memory.

Christopher P. Anderson
Heather Dawn Anderson"Lipstick" Likes B-ball, Softball Cheering, and the DuOh! Hey Baby . . . NOT!

Seniors have to divide their time between work, school, and other activities. It is very difficult to balance time and still have a chance for a little fun. Some students, such as Michael Morely, spend their time working in the evenings and on weekeneds. Others use school as a time to be with friends such as Stephen Brown, Charles Beasly, and Shawn Brown.

Mrs. Taylor is the senior class sponsor for the 1992-1993 school year. Mr. Winston requested that she take the position because of her past experience with Senior activities. Besides regular tending duties, Mrs. Taylor must also delegate responsibilities to the other Senior Class sponsors. She must maintain records of Senior dues and prepare fundraisers to finance Senior activities such as graduation and her favorite activity, the Senior Banquet. Mrs. Taylor considers Seniors to be most interesting and challenging. She also contributed to the making of the Senior wall during Homecoming week, which won first place in the wall decorating contest. The Senior Class appreciates all of her hard work.

S.C.A. welcomes Freshmen with a sign. It signifies their acceptance into the Chancellor circle of friends. As eighth graders, they were 'king of the hill.' Now, they are back at the bottom, but have grown in the transition. Freshmen are now worthy of the respect they deserve.

Freshmen do not always need the new friends here at Chancellor; they brought friends with them. While walking or waiting, Freshmen, such as Ashley Peck, David McRacken an Jackie Graham, display their friendship with pride.

Freshmen Show Leadership . . .

Freshmen class sponsor, Mrs. Hale, accepted the position smiling with grace. Throughout the year she is called upon to do many things. Mrs. Hale is responsible for holding Freshmen class officer elections. Then she must meet with them every so often. Mrs. Hale must also plan the class banner with the officers and she supervises the making of it. Her year is full of many more activities. This year a new activity was added. Mrs. Hale had to supervise the decorating of the class wall for Homecoming spirit week.

CHANCELLOR HIGH SCHOOL
HOME OF THE CHARGE

Freshmen gave their speeches and were elected the first week of the second six weeks of school. The Freshmen officers are as follows: Kris Kincaid, President; Beth Messer, Vice President; Ginny McKinney, Secretary-Treasurer; Dallas Hartsel, Reporter-Historian; Scott McCrary, Board Member. Freshmen officers have a full year ahead of them. Many decisions need to be made. One of the biggest decisions is what their banner will look like.

.... And Creativity

The Freshmen Class Homecoming court is a chance to show school spirit. Even though Freshmen are new at formal dances, they respond with creativity and style, in coming out to Homecoming in force. Freshmen Homecoming attendants were Shay Lassiter, Wayman Lewis, Nicole Davis, and Rhett Carlin.

Determined To Succeed

The Varsity Football team once again proved their determination to succeed with another winning season in 1992. Maintaining an undefeated record throughout all of regular season, the Chancellor Chargers captured the Battlefield District with little problem. They were #16 in the Washington Post poll, and #3 in the AP Poll for AA, and the VHSL AA Power Points poll. Their accomplishments were well deserved and Chancellor High is very proud of its victorious football team.

Team success, however, is not the only factor the Chargers achieved, for they have many talented players who excel individually on the football field. Three key defensive players were named to All-State teams. Brett Tillett made first team All-State, plus State Co-Defensive Player of the Year, and Regional and District Defensive Player of the Year. Alonzo Williams made second team All-State, with Anthony Slusarz, who was named to third team. Brian Furrow made District and Regional teams with those players. Andre Roman was named to the Region Offensive squad. Roman, Chris Lam, Ed Shelton, and Greg Rau all made the Offensive District team. Joe Johnson made District Punter. Greg Rau was named Battlefield Offensive Player of the Year.

. . . Prepares For The Future

Completing another fine season, the Chancellor High School Junior Varsity Football team managed to control most of their opponents and finish with a 5-2-1 record. Proving their talent to others, J.V. football prepares younger players for the varsity squad. Their success now ultimately predicts the victories of Chancellor Football that are yet to come.

Their perseverance is demonstrated in these pictures. Andy Lutrell darts across the field to catch the incoming ball. Milton Branch and Josh Schwenk head upfield for special teams as the offense sets up for a winning drive.

The Varsity and Junior Varsity Fall Cheerleaders raised spirits at Chancellor to new extremes. In the Pep Rally, they entertained the crowd by performing their dances and skits. The cheerleaders also twisted during the lunch shifts preceding major football games. In the Q96 Cheerleading Challenge, the Varsity Cheerleaders took home a second place trophy. The squad will be losing their five seniors, Rebecca Gordon, Amy Irwin, Amy Cherry, Joni Scelfo, and Kristy Myers. Mrs. Kronander sponsored the Fall Cheerleaders.

. . . Drives Towards Excellence

The Chancellor Varsity and Junior Varsity Field Hockey Teams were once again named Battlefield District Champs. The Varsity team went undefeated with an impressive record of 13-0-1. By playing intensely and working together as a team, they scored 71 goals, while only 5 were scored against them. Many of these athletes were chosen for the All-Battlefield District and the All-Area Team. Ryan Malocha and Danielle Oleson for offense and Amy Ashburn and Misty Coe for defense were selected for the Battlefield District first team. Chosen for the second team were Jody Tanner for offense and Natalie Simpson and Natalie Pearman for defense. Joanna Koehler received honorable mention in the district. Ryan Malocha and Danielle Oleson were also honored by their selections for the All-Area first team. Misty Coe and Natalie Pearman were selected for the All-Area second team.

Chancellor Awards were also given out. Most valuable Offensive Players were Ryan Malocha and Danielle Oleson. Amy Ashburn received MVP Defensive Player, Natalie Pearman was chosen for the Incentive Award and Natalie Simpson received Coaches Award.

The Junior Varsity Team remained in first place in the District again this year. Their record this season was 6-1-5. This team of young players show great promise for future years to come.

Danielle Oleson fights for possession of the ball. Lisa Kirchner takes a break from practice. Cathy Guacena concentrates on dribbling down the field.

Both the Boys and Girls Cross Country teams were very successful this year. Both finished first in the Battlefield District. The girls finished 3rd in Region 2 and 4th overall in the state. The boys did well too, finishing 4th in the region and 9th in the state. Both teams had an exceptional year and have a lot to be proud of.

The teams were not the only ones to reap the benefits of hard work. As individuals, they also did well for themselves. The boys placed six people on the All-District team. They were Ryan Nissim-Sabat, Howard Kohl, Freddie Beckham, Bryan Banner, Jason Marcus, and Nick Stone. The girls did a good job too. They also placed six people on the All-District team. They were Rachel Koehler, Laura Douglas, Jenanie Catlett, Lisa Gough, Jenny Gough, and Dawn Piedel. Rachel Koehler and Laura Douglas also placed on the All-Region team, and Rachel made the All-State team as well.

The teams determination is proved in these pictures. Brody McCray and Justin Theriot sprint down a hill. Bryan Banner and Fred Martinez run on. The team celebrates after a victory. Jason Marcus works hard to stay ahead. Wendy Reid passes an opposing runner.

Coach Culbertson, Coach Moore, Head Coach Booth

The Varsity girls' basketball team fought hard in the 1992 season ending their season with fourteen victories and four losses. The Chargers eventually fell to Culpeper. Many members of the team received post-season honors. Heather Anderson was named the teams MVP and also was named to the first team All-District, first team Battlefield Tournament and second team All-Region. The Charger Hustle Award went to Christine Charke who also received Honorable Mention in the Battlefield District. C.J. Kostenblatt also received a Honorable Mention in the Battlefield District.

Christine Clarke looks to set up a play while C.J. Kostenblatt takes a shot and Heather Anderson boxes out. Danielle Burke shoots for two while Susan Catlett and Joy Mulheron prepare to get into position for rebounding. Heather powers a shot over a defender.

The Chargers Set The Pace

Catrina Bradford and Sara Catlett rest happily while their team gets another victory and Nicole Davis drives down the court. Kelly McCullough awaits prepared while Julie Smith hits the jump ball.

The J.V. Girls' basketball team worked hard to get a winning record of 18-0 in the district. The Chargers also captured a first place in the Battlefield District. This year's MVP honors went to Julie Smith and the Charger Hustle Award went to Heather Huffman.

On The Course

The Chancellor High School golf team finished the season with a four and six record and third place overall in the district tournament. Two team members, senior co-captain Chris Higgs and sophomore Chad Schott, went to Regional Finals. Chris Higgs finished seventh individually in districts while Chad Schott finished eighth.

Charger Basketball Seniors

The Charger Varsity Basketball team has come up against some tough competition this year, but they have kept on charging strong. The team consists mostly of seniors, like Natter Miller (right), Greg Rau and Ryan Nissim-Sabat (below), Mike Gerber (middle), and Keith Mesa (below right), whom have all played for the Chargers four years in a row. It is no wonder that our Varsity Basketball team is winter lightning.

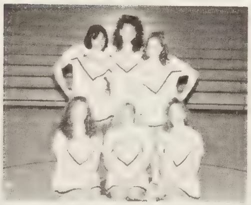
Seniors



This winter at the basketball games, the cheerleaders were able to keep the enthusiasm high. The squad performed their dance and entertaining skits during the pep rally. The seniors graduating this year are Robin Pennington, Christine Clarke, Nikki Cressman, Shawn Johns-Shelton, Heather Anderson, and Amy Ashburn. The sponsors are Mrs. Kronander, Mrs. Seay, and Mrs. Cohen.

With the fall squads, the winter squads attended camp at Randolph Macon. Varsity received a bid to the National Competition in Williamsburg and the Junior Varsity squad placed first in their division, earning a bid to Nationals, also.

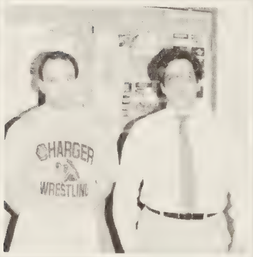
Wrestling



Coaches Hubert and Street

The return of several seniors sparked the Chargers to their best ever wrestling season. The key to their success was more experience than individuality. Working hard in the off season produced record breaking numbers. Eric Brendle takes control of his match. Rusty Higgins knows who is in charge of this confrontation. Kevin Robbins sizes up the competition.

Gymnastics demands the heart and soul, both mental and physical, from its competitors. The Chancellor gymnasts display both magnificently. Whether flying through the air or controlling their balance, the Charger gymnasts are headed for success.

The girls line-up to prepare for their meet. Regan Jones and Amy Irwin display their balancing act on the beam. Melanie Smalling holds her position on the vault while Colleen Ryan prepares for her dismount from the uneven bars. Kristy Meyers vaults her way towards success.

Senior Tributes

Every year parents of Chancellor graduates may purchase a tribute for their children. This year more tributes were bought than ever before, which in itself is another tribute to the Class of '93. However, because so many pages were taken up for these seniors, we were unable to include both the index and the puzzle collage. In any case, the tributes are far more important than an index.

Many congratulations to the Class of 1993.

The Challenges Staff

Jennifer Shoemaker

You have enriched our lives by the beauty of art through your drawings; the appreciation of music and ballet through your dancing; the inspiration of happiness through your smile — for all of this and more we love you and wish you the best in life.
Mom, Dad, Renee, and Kevin

J. Amie Jones

"The best beginning of our lives
may sometimes end in sorrow,
But even on our darkest days,
the sun will shine tomorrow."
Congratulations, Amie! Hope your future is a bright one.

Bryan Banner

Bryan, you made us laugh. And we still laugh today. Dinnertime is the best. Oh to be a fly on the lunchroom table at school . . . Laughter echos. Those echos will fill our memories and hearts as you venture out away from home.

God bless you.
Mom & Dad

Sunshine Hamacher

Congratulations Sunshine. Keep your aim high and always remember where your blessings come from. Don't forget to thank Him for those many blessings.

Lots of love, Mom

Tabitha Christina Ries

We dedicate this half-page to our daughter of seventeen years. You've grown from our little girl into our Senior daughter. You've brought into our house love, joy, happiness, and a lot of fun. If we could have it to do over again we wouldn't change a thing. We're proud of you and love you very much.

As we step off the scene and you step on, we pray that God will bless you in all you do.

We love you, "Cakes."

Love,

Brett Tillett

Brett — You are an outstanding person, son, and bother; a truly great friend to those who know you well; and a fanatical fisherman, hunter, and card player. Your hard work and dedication to your sports and academics will always be something you can look back on with pride, knowing you gave it your best every time. Congratulations on everything!! — Your Family

Matthew McWhirt

Well, Matt, as you can see,
You banged those drums so heartily.
You still are thumping, only louder —
Our love to you, we couldn't be prouder!

It's sad leaving old friends when you graduate,
But just think, you are a college candidate.
And new friends you will hook;
We can tell by the determined look!
We love you and are so proud of you.
Mom, Dad, and all the family

Clotine Torres

You are the light of my life and the wind beneath my wings. I am so proud of you.

Karen Leanne Mullins

Congratulations Karen! Best of luck in your future artwork — we know you will always be an artist at heart! Can it really be you're graduating and grown? We love you!

Mom, Dad, and sister Julie, and all your 11 aunts, 8 uncles, 36 cousins, and Grandma and Grandpa, too!

Genette Smith

Genette,
It only seems like yesterday you were as fragile as this rose,
A little girl we'd dress up in ribbons and bows.
The years just seem to melt away,
And you'll be on your own one day.
As time passes the petals of this rose will fall and fade away,
But the love we have for you grows stronger every day.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Catherine Christy Guacena

To Our Dear Cathy,

Congratulations and best wishes on your high school graduation. You are a wonderful individual, and we love you. We are proud of you and will always support you in everything you do.

Good luck, and may God bless you with good health and prosperity always.

Lovingly,

Dad, Mom, Jenny, and Eric J.

Rebecca H. Gordon

Dear Rebecca,

Since you were this little toddler, you have blessed our lives with your optimism and strength. We are so proud of you!

Congratulations and have a wonderful future.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Misty Lynn Coe

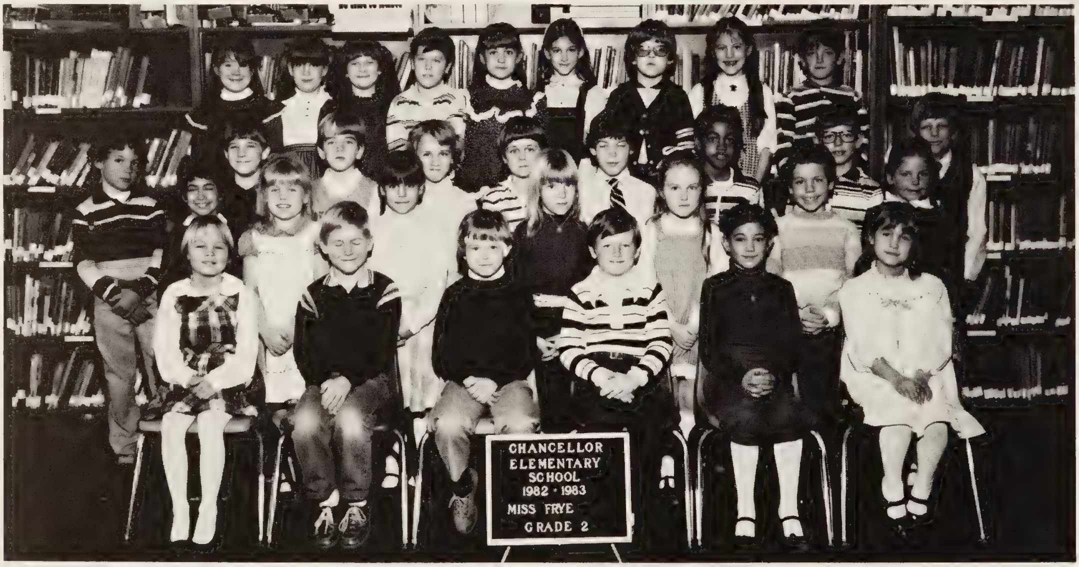
Dear Misty,

You have grown up to be a very responsible, reliable, helpful, and loving young person. You have made us very proud of you.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Can you pick out the following Chargers who have stayed together throughout the years? Alphabetically, they are Celia Agan, Carl Apperson, Amy Ashburn, Jonathan Black, Amy Carmichael, Susan Carlett, Misty Coe, Brian Garvey, Rebecca Gordon, Jimmy Grimes, Holly Hall, Jim Klock, Robbie Leftwich, Kiersten Murray, Ryan Nissim-Sabat, Dwight Peck, Mike Randall, Jennifer Shoemaker, Jody Tanner, Tricia Ward, and Ben Wharton. Congratulations to these graduates and their classmates, and thank you to Miss Frye and the faculty and staff of Chancellor Elementary for the good start you gave our children.

Love,
Mrs. Cheryl Coe and Mrs. Terrie Gordon



Susan Lorraine Catlett

Our child, if you accept God's words and store up His commands within you, turning your ear to wisdom
  and applying you heart to understanding, if you call out for insight and cry aloud for understanding, and if you look for it as silver and search for it as hidden treasure, then you will understand the fear of the Lord and find the knowledge of God.
For the Lord gives wisdom,
  and from his mouth come knowledge and understanding.
He holds victory in store for the upright.
  He is a shield to those whose walk is blameless, for He guards the course of the just and protects the way of His faithful ones.
Then you will understand what is right and just and fair — every good path.
For wisdom will enter your heart,
  and knowledge will be pleasant to your soul.
Discretion will protect you and understanding will guard you.
Proverbs 2:1-11 NIV

God gave us a most precious gift — YOU! You've brought so much joy into our lives. We love you, darling.

The Challenges Staff Salutes The

Still "Char

Class of 1993 . . .

ging On!"

Our staff wishes to congratulate all the graduates. We hope all your futures become "the best of times."

Colophon

The Challenges staff is proud of the fact that we are self-supporting. The yearbook does not receive funding or a budget for office supplies from the school board. All of the over $30,000 it takes to take almost 2000 pictures then pay for and ship the 950 yearbooks to Chancellor comes from the efforts of the Challenges staff. Our members are each required to sell $450 in business ads over the summer. Additionally, we sell preordered yearsbooks at discounted prices and sponsor the yearbook dance in May.

Our staff consists of four chief editors: Susan Catlett, copy; Ryan Malocha, layout; Tracy Hoal, advertising; Amie Jones, photography. Section editors and other staff include Jennifer Shoemaker, Cathy Guacena, Misty Coe, Chris Grab, Ben Gordon, Chris Higgs, Bryan Banner, Sara Catlett, and Aaron Coe. Eight of these staff members are '93 graduates and will be greatly missed.

For the fifth year Jostens is our publisher, with Jay Hollis as our sales representative and Chrys Brummal as our service representative in the Clarksville, Tennessee, plant. Our book is in a trim size of 8½X11 and consists of 216 pages with a 16-page spring supplement. Our endsheets were designed by Susan Catlett to reinforce the theme from Charles Dickens, "The Best of times," while also incorporating the open lightning bolt to symbolize the Chargers. The staff decided on this traditional theme this year to complement the decision to go to a traditional cover. From now on, the yearbook will use the same cover with the mascot blind embossed and hand-rubbed. Each year from now on, only the theme statement will change.

Working on the yearbook staff is a combination of lots of fun and lots of work. Cathy Guacena and Tracy Hoal enjoy a staff lunch at Chi Chi's, and Misty Coe, Susan Catlett, and Ryan Malocha just enjoy the compnay during fifth period yearbook time. However, until the day after graduation, hard work takes place in order to meet all deadlines. Amie Jones, Ben Gordon, Sara Catlett, Chris Grab, Bryan Banner, Jennifer Shoemaker, and Chris Higgs all share the work load.
